

TREKKING TO EL MORADO GLACIAR

This is another treasure kept in the outskirts of Santiago. El Morado Glaciar is an experience to be lived. From Santiago we start the road to Cajon del Maipo, following up to the Cajon del Arenas, a trip that lasts about 4 hours by car.

We began our hike on 2,100 meters and walk about 3 ½ hours on average difficulty getting to the feet of the most accessible glaciär in the Central area. The walls of glaciär falls 15m high to the lake of the same name, where are icebergs floating in muddy water. If weather conditions allows, we can hike over the glaciär, in an altitude of 3200m. The warm clothing is very important in this expedition, because in the edge of the glaciär the temperature is around -5 ° C.
